

Finding Parts/Year, Make, Model and VIN

1. How do I find the part I need for my vehicle?

For the most accurate results and to help ensure you get the correct part for your vehicle, enter your GM VIN (Vehicle Identification Number) on the parts homepage. You can also search by entering your vehicle's year, make and model. For more technical questions, please reach out to your local seller to ensure you are purchasing the correct part for your vehicle.

2. What if I don't know my vehicle's year/make/model?

Please check your state vehicle registration to find the year, make and model of your vehicle.

3. How do I find my vehicle's VIN?

You can find your VIN in one of the following ways:

- On most vehicles, you can look at your dashboard on the driver's side of the vehicle – where your dashboard meets your windshield. Your VIN is best viewed from outside the vehicle
- On most vehicles, open your driver's side door and find the VIN sticker on the doorframe
- Check your state vehicle registration. VINs are listed on registrations in most states
- If you receive a monthly diagnostics report email, your VIN may be found when you view it

10. Why did my price change when I changed sellers?

When purchasing parts online, orders are fulfilled by our network of third-party sellers. Each seller is independently owned and operated and sets their own prices for the services and parts that they offer.

11. Why don't I see my seller listed?

Each seller is independently owned and operated and must choose to participate in the Parts & Accessories Program for you to be able to purchase parts and accessories online from them.

12. Why do I have to select a seller when making my purchase?

All online parts orders are fulfilled by a third-party seller, so when you are purchasing a part online, you need to pick a seller to complete the order. This may also impact the price of the part, as sellers are able to individually set the price of all parts orders.

Core Charge

31. What is a “core charge”?

Certain automotive parts can be recycled and remanufactured for future use. These parts have a “core charge” that is used essentially as a deposit on the portion of the part that can be reused. The reason for this charge is to encourage the return of your old part. When the recyclable component from your old part is returned, the charge is refunded to you.

There are two ways to receive your core charge refund:

- If you had the product shipped to your home, visit <https://acdelcocorererefund.com/> and follow the instructions to complete your return and refund request
- If you picked up the part or had it installed, the core must be returned to the seller’s location where it was purchased

For full details on the core refund process, visit https://ecom-dam.ext.gm.com/products/documents/GMGenuine_ACDelco_Core_Return_FAQ.pdf. Please make sure to drain all liquids and place the part in a plastic bag to avoid leakage during the return process. The core must be complete and returned in its original GM Genuine Parts or ACDelco box and received within six months of the purchase date of your new or remanufactured unit.
